

Barn Quilting, Canning Courses scheduled at CV Technology Center

Barn quilting can be hair raising and awe inspiring at the same time. These large hand-painted plywood blocks are most often hung on barns. Their beauty and popularity has given rise to the establishment of nearly 50 barn quilt trails across the U.S. Barn quilts resemble huge blocks from a quilt, hence the name that is derived from the time-honored tradition of quilt making.

Canadian Valley Technology Center is hosting its first barn quilt class May 7-8 as part of a new series of affordable, short-term courses at the Chickasha Campus.

A canning class is also scheduled for June 5. As spring temperatures rise, gardeners are sure to begin planning vegetable gardens. Canning is the best way to preserve garden-fresh veggies for cold weather months. Proper preservation can result if storage for even a few years. Special guest instructor for the course is Oklahoma Cooperative Extension Service Food Specialist Dr. Barbara Brown. She is a show favorite on the popular OETA series, Oklahoma Gardening.

These classes are made possible by CV Tech through a partnership with the Grady County Extension Service.

Airgas of Chickasha wins national award

Airgas of Chickasha was just awarded National Small Branch of the Year for 2017. Chickasha was recognized as being one of the best branches in communities nationwide based on customer service, safety, and financial performance.

Airgas has established a national footprint with locations across the U.S., bolstered by the global presence of our parent company, Air Liquide. Headquartered in Radnor, Pennsylvania, the Airgas network is comprised of more than 950 retail locations as well as cylinder fill plants, gas production facilities, specialty gas laboratories and regional distribution centers.

Founded in 1982 and acquired by Air Liquide in 2016, Airgas has long been defined by its entrepreneurial spirit. The diverse company is powered by 18,000 hard-working men and women, dedicated to customer success in the following industries: Manufacturing and metal fabrication, Non-residential construction (energy and infrastructure), Energy and chemicals (upstream, midstream and downstream, Life sciences and healthcare, Food, beverage and retail services, Materials and power, Government, defense and aerospace.

Chamber Golf Tournament set for June

The Chickasha Chamber of Commerce 31st SaltCreek Casino Annual Golf Classic has been scheduled for Friday, June 15, at Winter Creek Country Club. Sign-in will be at 8:00 a.m. and Tee-Off at 9:00.

The tournament is a 4-man scramble and prize money will be paid for two flights. There will be lots of fun gimmick holes and prize opportunities. Lunch is included for all golfers and volunteers.

The Golf Tournament is an important and enjoyable fundraiser for the Chickasha Chamber and provides a wonderful chance to network with other Chamber members, golfers and spectators.

Some of the sponsorships include Corporate, Lunch, Hole and Hole-in-One. If you have questions or would like to visit about this opportunity, please call the chamber at 224-0787.
